Mediation Ground Rules

- Each party will have an equal opportunity to speak
- Only one party will speak at a time.
- No interruption of the person speaking will be allowed.
- Listen as respectfully as possible.
- Try not to attack or put-down the person speaking.
- Use respectful language.
- No unproductive arguing.
- Each party is entitled to their own perspective.
- A party can request a break at any time.
- Both parties will work towards a constructive agreement.
- Responsibility for the resolution of the dispute rests with the parties not the mediator.
